RAILROAD INDEBTEDNESS.

The question of how shall the indebtedness of the bond-aided railroads to the Government be settled, divides with the Cuban question the attention of the United States Senate. Yesterday Pettigrew's resolution appropriating $10,000,000 to take up the trust notes of the Union Pacific road resulted in a breezy debate. He said this step was imperative to protect the interests of the Government against those who held notes and whose purpose it is to absorb the branch lines of the Union Pacific. He did not believe the Union Pacific is insolvent and thought the floating debt was created for the express purpose of embarrassing the government and competing with its lines. When asked if he believed in Government ownership and operation of the bond-aided roads, Senator Pettigrew replied that he did not think the Government could possibly manage the roads worse than they have been by the companies. Government ownership would do away with the pools, combinations and discriminations in rates which made American railroads a target for criticism.

Attention was called to the fact that the Government was in danger of losing $15,000,000 due to the roads, yet none seemed worried by the probable loss.

Morgan said the statements made by Pettigrew were the most grave charges, and it was difficult for a single mind to comprehend the labyrinth of fraud and rascality connected with the subject of the railroad indebtedness to the Government. It is a twin brother to the Credit Mobilier frauds and fattens on the same system of bribery and corruption.

These charges against the subsidized railroads are made by United States Senators in the halls of Congress. It is not possible that such men as Pettigrew and Morgan would make such charges unless they are prepared to prove them. Should not Congress appoint a committee to investigate those frauds and empower it to send for persons and papers? It is evident that Mr. Reed's branch of the National Legislature will not do so. That end of Congress has decided to take a rest of over two weeks to digest Christmas turkey, but it devotes only three days to the discussion of the Funding bill, which involves the payment by the Government of $115,000,000. A legislative body which has such a high regard for its stomach and so little for the public interest will not be likely to investigate railroad frauds and if anything is done in that line it will have to be done by the Senate.

THE V. & T. TAX CASE.

The County Assessor valued the property of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad Company in Washoe county at $75,920. The Board of Equalization sustained the Assessor's valuation, though the company asked for a reduction. When the taxes for 1895 became due the railroad company tendered the taxes on $131,000, that being the valuation which its agents placed on the road. The tax receiver having no authority to take less than the amount for which the company's property was assessed refused the tender. Suit was brought in the District Court here in the name of the State of Nevada for the taxes on the assessed valuation. Judgment was rendered for the amount and the company appealed. The Supreme Court sent the case back for a new trial, the principal ground being that the evidence did not sustain the valuation placed upon the property by the Assessor. A second trial was had and the jury found a verdict against the railroad company fixing the valuation of the property at $212,000. This was a compromise verdict, it being about $82,000 less than the Assessor's valuation and $81,000 more than the company's valuation.

The taxes for 1895 and 1896 are involved in this suit, as it is not claimed that the road and property have increased or decreased in value since 1895. The hope is expressed very generally by citizens that the verdict of the jury will be accepted by both the State and the company and that the litigation will end here. It is well known that the earning capacity of the road has decreased in consequence of the mining depression, but that might be urged with equal force in reducing the valuation of all kinds of property. Ranching does not pay as it once did, and business of all kinds is dull compared to what it was some years ago, and the rule that applies to railroads should be applicable to other property. At any rate very little is gained by sending the railroad tax case to the Supreme Court and back again to the District Court, and the sooner it is settled the better for all concerned. If that wave of prosperity reaches Nevada the taxes on the Virginia & Truckee road can be correspondingly increased.

CONGRESS ADJOURNED.

Congress has adjourned until after the holidays. There was not a quorum of the House present yesterday, notwithstanding the Republicans have a majority of 145 in that body, and Mr. Reed could not find Democrats enough to count a quorum. When Congress meets again the Committee on Rules has agreed to devote three days to the discussion of the Funding bill, but only such members as Mr. Reed is disposed to recognize will be permitted to speak against the bill. The Speaker virtually controls the action of the House.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The excitement caused by the failure of the National Bank of Illinois at Chicago is subsiding and the run on other banks has ceased.

Charley Strong, the colored boxer, was knocked out in the 19th round by Bob Armstrong before the Broadway Athletic Club, New York City.

Governor Morton of New York has issued a proclamation to the Sheriff of Queen's county, calling upon him to prevent a violation of the law by those engaged in the Lavigne-McKeever fight at Long Island City.

James Preston, a farmer living near New Richmond, Ohio, followed his son to Cincinnati and shot them and then shot himself. The physicians say Preston and his wife will die, but the stepson will recover.

A suspension bridge at Littleton, West Virginia, fell wide crowded with people who were going home from a church entertainment. Thirty or forty persons went down with the bridge and one was killed and two fatally injured.

General Weyler has left Havanna again to resume personal command of operations against the Cubans in Pinar del Rio. The insurgents derailed an exploring train in the Province of Mantanzas, killing the conductor and seriously injuring the engineer.

The Bank of Minnesota at St. Paul closed yesterday. The capital stock is $600,000 and the bank was considered one of the strongest in the northwest. The Union Stock Yards Bank, which was closely connected with the Bank of Minnesota, also closed its doors.

Maceno Carillo, a Mexican, stabbed his wife seventeen times near Redlands Junction, California, and leaving her for dead fled to the mountains. Sheriff Hotcombe pursued the uxoricide, captured him after a long chase and lodged him in the county jail at San Bernardino.

D. E. Forbes, representing a London firm, arrived in San Francisco from the Orient with a case of surgical instruments valued at $80,000. He claims they are works of art and should be admitted free, but the customs officers have a different opinion and will hold the instruments till the duty is paid.

The Board of Health met in San Francisco yesterday to act on the cases of dairymen charged with selling impure milk. The members of the Board were served with an injunction sued out by the dairymen who charged that Inspector Dockery emplied their milk into sewers alleging that it was impure when a chemical analysis proved that it was pure.

THE NEW YORK EXPERTS ON HAND.

The New York experts on handwriting have completed their examination of the pencil will, deeds, and marriage contract in the Craven Fair case in San Francisco and pronounced them all forgeries. It is said the experts will be prepared when they take the stand to demonstrate to the satisfaction of any jury the processes by which the papers were forged showing each step in a convincing and simple manner.

THE "WAVE OF PROSPERITY."

That "wave of prosperity" has struck San Francisco. The Pacific Rolling Mills cut the wages of employees from 25 to 50 per cent and the men have gone out on a strike. The directors of the mills say that business has been falling behind and they decided to reduce wages. The men claim that under the new schedule of wages they can not earn enough to maintain themselves and families and about 125 of them decided to strike.

SENATOR STEWART.

Senator Stewart has become the sole owner of the Silver Knight, the partnership between him and O. C. Sabin, and J. H. Turner having been dissolved by mutual consent. It is not necessary to say that under the exclusive control of Senator Stewart the Knight will continue to fight for the cause of free silver.

GLADNESS COMES

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes intestinal cleanliness without disturbing the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to take what you purchase in the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If affected with any actual disease, one may be commanded to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Quite an excitement was occasioned yesterday by the exhibition of a very rich piece of gold quartz discovered near Steamboat. Joe Ziegler, Jerry Bray and others are the locators thus far. The ore will go $7,000 a ton.

Mott's Genuine New York cider in bulk, the finest cider ever placed on this market, will be received by H. J.
Thyes in a few days and will be on sale by the glass or gallon. Call and try it if good old eastern cider is wanted.

The Pavilion will be a scene of festivity to-night, the occasion being the Leap Year Party given by a number of young ladies. The young gentlemen will pose as belles and the young ladies as the honors. The affair promises to be a social event.

Dr. Robert Darling, veterinary surgeon, has been officially notified of his appointment of Professor of Anatomy in the University of California. With this he receives the college hospital practice. Dr. Darling will leave about January 1st to enter upon his new duties. He has resided in Reno for several years and had quite a lucrative practice, and made many friends, who while pleased at his advancement will regret his departure. *

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found any thing so beneficial, or that gave such a speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough

The Reply of a Chiropractor Started an Investigation — Those Who Walk Suffer Most From Corns—How Sidewalks Exercise a Special Influence.

"What makes corns?"

"If people would not walk, they would not have corns," replied the chiropractor emphatically.

The reply was satisfactory as far as it went, but it didn't go far enough, and therefore the sufferer, not being able to rid himself of the pain by riding always, walked and pondered.

He began to notice, when he walked in one direction on one side of a street, that one foot was affected and when he walked in the opposite direction that the other foot was affected. The distress was in the foot that was toward the curb.

He could not walk ahead awhile and then walk backward to relieve the pain, because he thought that he might be looked upon as a crank and that such behavior in a public street would be absurd anyway. Then he examined his shoes and observed that the most of the wear was on the outer edges of the soles and heels and that the upper leather had begun to bulge slightly over the worn parts of the soles. When he put his shoes on again, he observed that the leather where it bulged pressed on the painful area of each little toe.

With the results of the observations in mind, the sufferer proceeded, step by step, somewhat painfully at times, to ascertain the cause of the effect on his shoes. He would not acknowledge that he might be bowlegged and unable to wear evenly the soles of his shoes, and nobody who met him could observe any unusual deviation from the ordinary lines of legs. He trod carefully, and, without making himself conspicuous, tried to walk on a level, so that the surface would be equal on the whole of each sole. His toeing was moderate—neither too much outward nor too much inward—and at times he succeeded in walking as his mind directed, but usually the distress that he winced from indicated that something was wrong somewhere. The root on the curb side of the walk was generally distressed more than the other. The fit of his shoes was fair, and for awhile the suffering investigator could not determine the reasons for the tendency to bulge on the sides. He defied any one to prove that the bottled waters that he drank could have an effect on his system that would tend to make him edge toward the gutter. Such an idea ought not to be thought of.

Going somewhat deeper into the subject, beneath the shoes and the painful areas, the investigator gave some attention to the surfaces on which he walked, and stowed away in his memory the characteristics of localities in which he had been bad, experiences that were painful, more painful, and most painful, almost painless. He noticed, for instance, when he walked across an asphalt pavement from one sidewalk to another in certain localities, that his tread was even and that he had little pain. The experience suggested that he could generally have relief by walking on asphalt pavement, but he remembered the arrest of an eccentric pedestrian who insisted on having the privilege of walking in the middle of the street and decided that he would not risk himself in that direction, notwithstanding the relief that might be obtained. He noticed also that the distress was less in some localities than in others and that all sidewalks were not alike. He tried to confine his walk to the localities in which he felt the least distress, but he had to go to such a roundabout way to arrive at any particular place, especially his place of business, that the plan had to be abandoned. Besides, he never trod a perfect route—a route that throughout its length had a surface that could be paced without pain. At one point or another the patient investigator felt twinges that were almost unbearable.

Lining up the subject on the best route he could find, he devoted his attention to the spot or block where he had the most severe twinges. That sent him to the sidewalk, describing the action figuratively. He did not drop on his knees, although he had the impulse to do that and to howl also, but he stopped at the curb and thought awhile.

He inferred that his sufferings were greater in that particular block because some peculiarity or influence presented itself there. At first the twinges of thought grasped nothing definitely, but as the pain departed from the affected foot, the powers of vision took hold and the result was a revelation.

As in many great discoveries and relations, the cause of the effect was very simple—the sidewalk had been graded from the house line to the curb for good drainage, and as the incline was a few
